Announcement of Rise in Rates for Stock Lending Service

This announcement is to inform that Monex, Inc.* ("Monex", Oki Matsumoto, President & CEO) has raised rates that customers utilizing our stock lending services can receive from 0.14% p.a. (Average in August) to 0.5% p.a. for the month of September.

*100% subsidiary of Monex Beans Holdings, Inc.

The Stock Lending Service is Monex's original service that is convenient and advantageous in that customers can receive interest rates by lending out their stocks to Monex. By raising the interest rates substantially, we hope that we can provide a more advantageous investment service to individual investors.

This service started in 2003 and it covers almost all listed stocks and customers can sell lent stocks anytime. It has a number of 11,000 accounts and a balance of 63.1 billion yen as of July 2006.

With the computerization of stock certificates starting by June 2009, we hope that this will appeal to customers with stock certificates at hand. We are also in preparation to launch a new service that can automatically return stocks to the customer on the date of right allotment so that customers can receive the shareholder benefits, and then put them back to the stock lending service on the following business day.

At Monex, we hope that we can further enrich products and services to answer to the various needs of customers.

Monex, Inc. Supports Development of Video Game Software
'Stock Trading Trainer "Kabutore!"' for Nintendo DS

Monex Beans Holdings, Inc. announces that 'Stock Trading Trainer "Kabutore!"' ("Kabutore!"), a video game software for Nintendo DS, a handheld game console, is slated for release on December 14, 2006. The software has been developed by Konami Digital Entertainment Co., Ltd. ("Konami Digital Entertainment", Head office: Minato-ku, Tokyo; President Fumiaki Tanaka). with the cooperation of Monex, Inc. ("Monex", President & CEO Oki Matsumoto).

The Monex Group has been committed to investment education activities primarily through its subsidiary Monex University, Inc. (President: Shinobu Naito). We hope that our support for the development of "Kabutore!" will help a wide range of Nintendo DS owners to learn basic knowledge and expertise in stock trading. At present, the total number of Nintendo DS consoles sold exceeds 10 million units.

"Kabutore!" will be showcased by Konami Digital Entertainment at the Tokyo Game Show 2006 to be held at Makuhari Messe from September 22 through 24.

Monex, Inc. launches “No Brokerage Commission” Campaign for “Monex Nighter (night-time trading)” Service

Monex Beans Holdings, Inc. announces that its subsidiary, Monex, Inc. (“Monex”; President & CEO: Oki Matsumoto), will launch a promotional campaign starting September 15, 2006 through October 31, 2006. During the campaign period, customers can use the “Monex Nighter (night-time trading)” service without paying the regular brokerage commission of ¥500 per trade.

Monex has constantly and stably been operating the “Monex Nighter” service, the first proprietary trading system (PTS) for individual investors in Japan for five years and eight months since January 2001. The popularity of “Monex Nighter” among customers is underscored by the average number of monthly transactions of about 33,000 for the recent twelve months.

The “Monex Nighter” service handles over 3,000 stocks during night-time trading hours (from 17:30 to 23:59) on weekdays. Since its simple pricing method of basically using the closing price of each stock on that day, the “Monex Nighter” has been used by many customers since the start of the service. From July 2005, Monex started handling “Chance-Stocks*” in an effort to broaden its services. Monex is launching this commission-free campaign to encourage more customers to use the “Monex Nighter” service.

\* “Chance-Stocks” are a selection of stocks that can be traded at a special price determined by Monex in response to the demand request from qualified institutional investors. In many cases, the trading price is set within a range of  $\pm 7\%$  around the official closing price (and therefore differs from the closing price at the stock exchange).

For details of “Chance-Stocks”, please see the news release (Japanese only) posted on our website at:

The Asahi Shimbun Newspaper

Monex Beans Holdings, Inc. announces that its subsidiary, Monex, Inc. ("Monex", President & CEO Oki Matsumoto) will start a weekly serial article on newspaper once a week starting October 1, 2006 for a year. The contents for this "Monex Money Seminar (Special money lessons they don't teach at school)" will be provided by Monex University ("Monex University", President Shinobu Naito).

The need for individuals to manage their assets at their own risk is now higher than ever, but the accumulation of financial literacy has only just begun. Under this environment, the Monex Group has been committed to investment education activities primarily through Monex University by providing educational contents from basic investment theory to practical investment methods.

The "Monex Money Workshop" will provide a wide variety of contents on newspaper such as explanation and features of Stocks and Bonds, asset allocation, and so forth. As a part of our CSR activities, we hope that this workshop will contribute to the improvement of financial literacy for many individual investors. The contents will be provided every Sunday on the Asahi Shimbun, a leading Japanese newspaper, and the back numbers will be provided on Monex's website.
